The last few decades have been a period of transition for industry in the Greater Johnstown and Cambria County region. At one time, filled with burgeoning coal mines and steel mill smokestack clouds floating in the air, manufacturing was king. Slowly a shift began and the people of this area took advantage of the changing times and the opportunity to advance and diversify. New industry was born — health care, technology, tourism — still relying on the unique attributes of our region but in a new and exciting way.
